

SPECIAL SESSION OF STATE LEGISLATURE IS CALLED

HOOVER SENDS NAVAL TREATY TO CONGRESS

Short Letter of Transmittal Accompanied Document

Washington, May 1—(UP)—President Hoover submitted the London naval treaty to the Senate today with every expectation of early ratification.

The treaty reached the Senate 24 hours after Mr. Hoover received it from Secretary of State Stimson, head of the American delegation. President Hoover sent only a brief routine letter of transmittal with the treaty, preferring this course to the delay that would be caused by taking time to preparing a lengthy message.

Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations committee is ready to expedite treaty hearings, partly in secret, because it is believed inadvisable openly to discuss the inside story of the London conference at this time.

Hearings Planned
Reference to the treaty to the Foreign Relations committee only will not prevent the Naval Affairs committee from holding hearings on technical naval questions. If the committee so desires, Borah said several days ago he had no objection to separate Naval committee hearings.

Chairman Britten, Repn., Ill., of the House Naval Affairs committee, has indicated an intention also to hold hearings.

So far the treaty has aroused neither enthusiastic enthusiasm or opposition but ratification is conceded by influential Senators who have discussed the matter.

Mr. Hoover's letter of transmittal said:
"I transmit herewith a treaty for the limitation and reduction of naval armaments signed at London on April 22, 1930, by the plenipotentiaries of the President of the United States, the President of the French Republic, His Majesty, the King of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas, Emperor of India; His Majesty the King of Italy and His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, to the ratification of which I ask the advice and consent of the Senate."

S. District Court from Freeport to Rockford. The bill was introduced by Rep. John T. Buckbee of Rockford.

Rockford contends that because a large part of the court's business originates there, the court should be located in Rockford. Freeport replies that it is more centrally located in the judicial district.

Anthracite Miners

See Peaceful Term

Hazleton, Pa., May 1—(UP)—Peace is generally expected between anthracite miners and operators during the next agreement period as a result of the speech of John L. Lewis, International President, United Mine Workers, at the tri-district Union Conference.

Lewis urged that the present wage scale be renewed when the present agreement terminates in August. A strike would have a serious effect on the prosperity of the hard coal region Lewis said.

Vigorous support of the effort being made in the U. S. Senate to prevent the confirmation of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina as Justice of the Supreme Court was shown earlier in the convention.

Figures Submitted To Senate Committee By Candidates

Washington, May 1—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, successful candidate in the recent Illinois Republican Senatorial race, told the Senate Campaign Funds committee today she spent $252,572 from her own pocket book in that race.

The Republican nominee, who was the first witness before the committee, said she received no contributions except some from members of her own family.

She added that she was supported by only two organizations in Cook county—the Voters Progress Club and the Ruth Hanna McCormick Volunteers.

Mrs. McCormick read a statement in which she urged that legislation be enacted to provide a closer scrutiny of all campaign activities by Senatorial candidates.

Read Statement

"I could not undertake to make a statement of expenditures in my recent campaign," she said, "for I do not know what period such a statement should cover. When does a candidate for the Senate become a candidate?"

"One of my opponents in the recent primary never formally announced his candidacy, but had been organizing and campaigning for two years in advance of the primaries.

"Another of my opponents announced his candidacy in mid-winter and two others entered the race merely by filing their names with the Secretary of State.

"New legislation should also take into account the necessity of checking up of money expenditure in a campaign as against opposition in the form of patronage influence, patronage promises and the use of payrolls in canvassing the districts.

"A law is needed, both in the public interest and in justice to the candidates themselves."

Deneen Spent $24,493

Mrs. McCormick left a thick volume showing receipts and expenditures for inspection by the committee.

Senator Deneen informed the committee that his losing campaign against Mrs. McCormick cost him a total of $24,493.21.

The largest item in the expense accounts filed by Mrs. McCormick was one for $107,518.30 for "county budgets."

She explained this war for organization activities in the various counties.

Other items in the McCormick account were: Printing, $26,556; newspaper advertising, $15,650; postage $12,432.

Senator Deneen, who followed Mrs. McCormick on the witness stand, said his expenditures which he was required under law to report only amounted to $10,180.

However, he filed a supplementary report showing additional expenditures of $14,313, which he said had been used in his campaign.

Mrs. McCormick was dressed in blue with a blue felt hat. She adjusted her glasses when she read her brief prepared statement. Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, asked Mrs. McCormick about her reference to the use of patronage in the campaign and inquired if she did not have some patronage of her own.

No Patronage
Smiling, Mrs. McCormick replied that as a member of the House she had none.

"How about postmasterships?" asked Senator Dill.

"None," she replied with a chuckle. Senator Deneen named Roy O.

The pair are traveling in a Ford sedan and visiting small towns, apply for lodging and garage space. They are said to be using raised one dollar bills of the new size which have been roughly converted into $20 notes. One of the men is described as 20 to 25 years of age, five feet, four inches tall, weight 145 pounds, medium complexion, dark hair, neatly dressed in a brown suit and fed hat, while the other is reported as 30 to 35 years of age, five feet, seven inches, 135 to 175 pounds, medium build and dark complexion. They are said to have worked successfully in Chicago and are now believed to be operating in this locality.

WILL REMAIN IN CHARGE OF ITS BUSINESS

Geo. B. Fluhr of Freeport Succeeds as Vice President Today

It was announced at the offices of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company here today that Martin J. Insull has resigned as President of the company and that E. D. Alexander of Dixon has been elected President. Mr. Insull will act as Vice Chairman of the company. George B. Fluhr, who has been superintendent of the Freeport district for the I. N. U. has been elected Vice President and will have his headquarters in Dixon where he will act as assistant to President Alexander in the active management of the company. Mr. Alexander will continue to direct the affairs of the Illinois Northern and will retain his present offices in Dixon.

Mr. Fluhr, who was formerly a resident of Sterling, has purchased the E. G. Hoffman residence at 323 E. Boyd street in north Dixon and will bring his family to Dixon to reside.

The elevation of Mr. Alexander to the presidency of the great corporation which manufactures and seizes power, light and gas to northern Illinois is a gratifying recognition of the services of the popular Dixon executive whose force and ability has been an important factor in the development of this important Insull property.

That Mr. Fluhr has been selected by the board of directors to succeed Mr. Alexander as Vice President and to be assistant director of the entire company is an indication of his fine record with the organization and his ability to fill that important executive post.

In other countries, notably Great Britain and Italy, the authorities considered the occasion as not much out of the ordinary. This was particularly the case in Italy where the Fascist party has stifled political opposition. Spanish America celebrated the day as a holiday, and an occasion for merry making.

Moscow, the cradle of the proletarian movement, planned a celebration on a huge scale. Workers were released from their employment Wednesday at 3 P. M. to make preparations for the event. A parade of workers and Soviet soldiers and speech making were scheduled.

Wealthy Bachelor Fell To His Death

New York, May 1—(UP)—The pajama-clad body of Louis Kramer, 73, wealthy bachelor who lived in a five-room apartment on the 12th floor of a Park Avenue apartment house, was found today in the courtyard after he had fallen from his window.

Police said their earlier belief that Kramer had committed suicide was dispelled when his nephew, Ned E. Gallard, informed detectives that he visited his uncle last night and had discussed the cowardice of a man taking his own life.

"My uncle often remarked that any man who would take that way out of life was a coward," Gallard said. "I don't think for one minute he killed himself. He was weakened by his illness and it is my opinion he was sitting near the window and fell out when he was seized with a fainting spell."

Kramer retired from active business about 35 years ago, having formerly been connected with the Southern Utah Mining Company. He had been in poor health for the last 18 months.

End Of Litigation In Oil Case Is Near

Los Angeles, May 1—(UP)—Admissions by attorneys indicated today that the last of the litigation growing out of the alleged loan of $190,000 to Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, by Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, may be nearing a close.

Both Doheny's counsel and stockholders, who launched a $20,000,000 recovery suit against the oil man over losses in the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Company, admitted that negotiations are under way for a settlement out of court.

Hearing on the suit in which stockholders claim that their company lost heavily when the government cancelled oil contracts because of alleged deals between Fall and Doheny, was postponed Tuesday in Federal Court until May 27.

MINOR DISORDERS MARKED MAY DAY DEMONSTRATIONS

Authorities On Guard To Prevent Serious Conflicts Today

Akron, O., May 1—(UP)—Marching Communists disobeyed police orders here today and mounted officers charged into the parade, dispersing the demonstrators with swinging night sticks.

Morris Scaunn, Cleveland, was arrested and charged with inciting riot.

BULLETIN

New York, May 1—(UP)—Police this afternoon broke up a Communist demonstration in front of the British Consulate. About 30 demonstrators were involved, mostly women. They carried banners demanding freedom for India.

London, May 1—(UP)—Fascists clashed with parading Communists in Hyde Park today in the first outbreak of violence in Europe's observance of May Day.

Four Fascists were cut but not seriously injured. About 15 Fascists were in the group.

By The Associated Press

Communists the world over held their annual May Day demonstrations today, using the occasion to show growth and strength of their movement, and as a protest against particularly widespread unemployment conditions.

In most of the countries of the world the police, and in some cases the military, took precautionary measures intended to keep the demonstrations within bounds and to prevent disorders.

In some countries, such as France, Germany, Greece and Poland, such measures were extreme and involved intensive mobilization of the constabulary, arrests of agitators, and in some cases their expulsion from the country.

In other countries, notably Great Britain and Italy, the authorities considered the occasion as not much out of the ordinary. This was particularly the case in Italy where the Fascist party has stifled political opposition. Spanish America celebrated the day as a holiday, and an occasion for merry making.

Moscow, the cradle of the proletarian movement, planned a celebration on a huge scale. Workers were released from their employment Wednesday at 3 P. M. to make preparations for the event. A parade of workers and Soviet soldiers and speech making were scheduled.

Tokyo—Two policemen were injured in a May Day riot, near the Capital. At a mass meeting of Shiba Park in the Capital 8,000 persons were present. Police rounded up 200 known radicals before noon and held them in custody for the rest of the day.

Paris—Three inept May Day demonstrators, one in Paris and two in the suburbs, were quickly suppressed by the police today. Altogether about one-fifth of the 600,000 workers in the main industries observed a May Day strike, but the down town part of Paris was almost normal in appearance except for the complete absence of taxicabs. The police arrested 223 persons of whom 43 were foreigners, on various charges including the carrying of concealed weapons, the distribution of Communist circulars and agitation.

Berlin—Police assigned to Lustgarten Square opposite the old Imperial Palace to the Communists for a morning meeting and to the Socialists for an afternoon meeting. Speech making was allowed, with police and National Guard keeping a vigil.

Vienna—Oratory demonstrations were permitted but watched closely by police. In Hungary demonstrations were prohibited.

Warsaw—Strong police reserves were called upon to prevent trouble between Communists and Socialists who were ordered to meet in different parts of the city.

Prague—Despite the festive air of preparations police were on guard against disturbances. There were parades through the central thoroughfares with bands playing and banners flying.

Madrid—Communists and anti-monarchical elements promised a tremendous demonstration. The government took repressive steps.

Mexico City—Communists were forbidden to make any demonstration.

GUGGENHEIM CERTIFICATE TO DIXON FOR MAKING ITS NAME VISIBLE TO FLIERS

Paper, Signed By Col. Lindbergh, Received By Mayor

Mayor Frank D. Palmer has received from H. E. Bruce, manager of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana at Joliet, a certificate issued by the Daniel Guggenheim Fund and signed by Col. Charles Lindbergh, awarding to this city recognition for making its name visible to aviators. This is the result of the painting of the name of the city on the roof of the bulk plant of the Standard Oil Company on East River street as well as on several other buildings throughout the city.

In connection with the nationwide campaign to provide adequate marking places so that they can be identified from the air the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, has painted town names on its buildings in more than 3,200 localities. The Guggenheim organization, having undertaken to award certificates of recognition for such work, found itself doing a wholesale business in issuing the parchments to the oil company.

An arrangement was accordingly entered into under which blank certificates were furnished to the Standard of Indiana and it was authorized to issue them to towns and city officials, chambers of commerce, civic clubs and other representative persons or organizations in the cities and towns where the marking of plants had been carried out.

The certificate reads:
"Daniel Guggenheim fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics. This is to certify that Dixon, Ill., has completed the work of identification for the service of aerial navigation thus contributing to the establishment of a nation-wide system of transportation by air. In recognition of this achievement this certificate is presented to Dixon, Illinois, by the directors of the fund, Harry P. Guggenheim, president, and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh."

The certificate will be framed and placed on the walls of the office of Mayor Frank D. Palmer in the city hall.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

DOG POSSESSED AUTO
Chicago, May 1—(UP)—Albert Hershenbline, a taxicab driver, finished his early morning cup of coffee and approached his automobile intending to drive away. But as he neared the automobile he noticed a large German police dog had taken possession of the vehicle.

Hershenbline's requests of "get out" were countered with growls, and as he ventured closer to the machine the canine yowls became more ominous.

After half an hour of coaxing and offering a huge morsel of meat to beguile the unsolicited fare, Hershenbline was allowed to peer into the back seat of the cab—and besides the police dog there were eight new-born puppies.

THEFT TOOK 5 YEARS

Chicago, May 1—(AP)—After five years, a robber last night finally finished what he started—the theft of two fur coats from Joseph Gottlieb.

The robbery began in 1925 when a man posing as a customer, chose two garments priced at $900, and made a $200 deposit. He promised to return in a few days with the balance, but the few days stretched into years.

Last night the customer returned with a companion and said he was ready to pay the amount due. Gottlieb told him that in the long interim, the value of the coats had increased, and that $900 was necessary to finish payment. The man paid it and left the store, promising to return soon.

He did, with a man in a policeman's uniform. The latter walked directly to Gottlieb and struck him down with a night stick. When Gottlieb regained consciousness, the furs were gone, and also the $900 the man had paid.

Senator Harry G. Wright and three friends left DeKalb this week for Wyoming, for a month's vacation for the benefit of his health. His many friends wish him a happy vacation and good recovery as the result of his Wyoming trip.

REVISION OF TAX LAWS IS ITS PURPOSE

Will Convene May 12th. Under Call of Gov. L. L. Emmerson

Springfield, Ill., May 1—(UP)—A special session of the state Legislature to meet here on May 12, to consider legislation which would revise Illinois' "antique" taxing system by amending the revenue section of the state Constitution and relieve the emergency brought about by Chicago's delay in collecting taxes during the last two years, was called by Governor L. L. Emmerson here today. The delay has deprived the state of sufficient funds with which to meet interest on bonds as well as take up bonds due within a few months.

The session is called to assemble at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of May twelfth.

The proclamation call declares the state and its political subdivisions "have been and are obtaining the needful revenue for governmental purposes by a system of taxation which although satisfactory when established, has now, under changed economic conditions, become unfair, unjust and discriminatory."

It asserts that "by reason of the constitutional requirement of uniformity of taxation of all property, the great wealth of intangible property in this state is in large measure escaping taxation and an unjust and disproportionate share of the cost of government is being borne by the owners of homes, business and farms," and continues further as follows:

Would Promote Prosperity
"Whereas, the adoption of a revenue system which distributes equitably the burden of providing the public revenue among persons and property will not increase the burden to the public but by relieving those tax payers now bearing a disproportionate share will promote the prosperity and welfare of the people of the state."

The proclamation then refers to the legislation is necessary to meet the financial emergencies of the state, Cook county and the city of Chicago, the Board of Education of the city of Chicago, other school districts and other local governing bodies within that county."

"Under the terms of existing law, the collection of delinquent special assessments cannot be enforced because of the re-assessment of real property in the county of Cook," the proclamation states.

The call also included a provision relative to arrangements for an artillery range for the Illinois National Guard.

PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICANS IN HOT CAMPAIGN

Two Factions Face Third Line of Cleavage in State Races

BY T. J. O'CONNELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Philadelphia —(UP)—With two factions of the Republican party struggling for supremacy and a third group establishing a new line of cleavage, Pennsylvania once again is in the midst of a bitter primary campaign.
Joseph R. Grundy, junior United States Senator, who was appointed by Governor John S. Fisher last December after the Senate turned thumbs down on the pretensions of William S. Vare, is seeking the Republican nomination in the May 20th primary. "Uncle Joe" has the backing of William L. Mellon, former chairman of the Republican state committee, who is a nephew of Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury. He also has the support of Governor Fisher and a big section of the State organization.
Opposing Grundy is Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who is backed by the Vare organization in Philadelphia and the Pittsburgh factions who look for political guidance to County Commissioner Joseph G. Armistead and Mayor Charles Kluge.
Francis C. Scovel, distinguished lawyer on the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania Law School, is the candidate of the anti-prohibition group. He has the backing of all the liberal elements in the state.
A peculiar political situation has been caused by the Mellons. While they have endorsed Grundy and rejected Davis, they accepted Francis Frank Brown, Davis' running mate for the governorship. The Philadelphia organization thus has been placed in a very peculiar position. They cannot advance Davis, fortunes by attacking the Mellons because such a proceeding, naturally, could not be countenanced by Brown.
Gifford Pinchot, drier than ever, once more is carrying his fight against the "interests" to the electorate as a candidate for Governor. He has the whole-hearted support of dry organization and a considerable labor following.
Thomas W. Phillips, former congressman from Butler, Pa., is the wet candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. With Bohlen as his running mate he has begun a vigorous campaign for repeal of the Snyder-Armistead, state prohibition enforcement, act. He also looks with disfavor upon laws "which unduly restrict Sunday amusement."
The "war board" running the Davis-Brown campaign sought vainly to get Phillips to withdraw from the race. They pointed out that he could hardly hope to win and that his continuation in the race might well result in the nomination of Pinchot.
It is reasonably certain that if Phillips polls a large vote and still falls short of the nomination, he will be an independent wet candidate against the regular Republican and Democratic nominees in the general election. If this should come to pass, and there is every reason to expect to believe it will, it should be interesting to see whether he can command the wet vote of both parties.

STAYTON AGAIN BEFORE LOBBY COMMITTEEMEN

Tells Of Conclusions Concerning Hoover's Doubt In Dry Law

Washington, May 1—(UP)—W. H. Stayton, Chairman of the Board of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, drew the conclusion that President Hoover "is beginning to doubt whether prohibition can be enforced" from members of the President's Law Enforcement Commission, he told the Senate Lobby committee today.
Stayton said individual members of the commission told him they were "trying to work out some other plan for the distribution of liquor than at present."
Stayton said the Law Enforcement Commission did not tell him about the President's views, but he drew the inference from their remarks. Another letter placed in the record today written by Stayton asserted six members of the Cabinet "believe prohibition is a failure."
The Cabinet officers he meant, he said, were Secretary of State Stimson; Secretary of Labor Davis; Secretary of Commerce Lamont; Secretary of the Treasury Mellon; Postmaster General Brown; and Secretary of Navy Adams.
"You are willing to stick by that statement?" he was asked.
"Yes."
Chairman Caraway questioned Stayton about the letter referring to President Hoover which was placed in the committee's record several days ago.
Stayton said in the letter he got the impression of the President's views from talking with members of Congress and public officials.
"Who did you have conversations with?" Caraway asked.
"With four members of the Wick-Crean Commission," Stayton replied.
"Who are they?"
"Judge Kenyon, Dean Pound and Colonel Anderson. I can't remember the fourth," Stayton replied.
"They told you President Hoover was beginning to doubt the laws could be enforced?"
"No sir. It was an inference on my part."
Secretary Mellon refused to comment on Stayton's assertion.
Secretary of Commerce Lamont said there was "no foundation" for Stayton's statement except that he was a member of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment "while a private citizen."
"I resigned before joining the Cabinet and have not discussed the subject since," Lamont said.
Secretary of the Navy Adams declined to comment on Stayton's statements other than to say there was no basis for his charges.
Secretary Davis declined to comment off-hand but said he might issue a statement later.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

Dixon 16-year-old had planned to start on the globe trotting expedition at noon, but the parents of the latter secured the aid of Chief J. D. Van Bibber in disorganizing the expedition. The local explorer returned to his home and the Chicagoan was taken to the city limits and headed back toward Chicago with instructions to exert his energies in caring for his mother. The Chicagoan had seven cents and an extra pair of trousers and the Dixonite had ten dollars and a few articles of clothing.

J. W. O'Donnell, aged 25, of Springfield, Mo., this morning was fined $50 and costs by Judge Leech in the county court on an information charging larceny. The fine was paid and O'Donnell with his wife, proceeded on their way to Des Moines, Iowa. They were arrested at noon Monday in a restaurant at Clinton, Iowa, by police of that city, who were asked by Chief Van Bibber to be on the look out for them. O'Donnell pleaded guilty this morning to having stolen a suit of clothes and a top coat from a clothes closet, the clothing being the property of Kenneth L. Glassburn of this city. The O'Donnell's enroute from Springfield, Mo., to Des Moines, spent Monday night in the house on Galena avenue, occupying a room next to Glassburn's.

Goitre Not a Disease

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery.
Milwaukee, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease, and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. F47, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The Doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Parker Defended In Senate By Herbert

Washington, May 1—(UP)—John J. Parker, disputed nominee for the Supreme Bench was defended as an impartial jurist in the Senate today by Senator Herbert (Rep. R. I.), who opened the fourth day of debate with a continuation of his speech from yesterday.
Herbert argued Parker had rendered many decisions in favor of labor while the other opposition was centering its objections upon his one decision in the Red Jacket coal case where he held the anti-union contract valid.

N. Y. POLICE ALERT
New York, May 1—(AP)—The full strength of the metropolitan police force of 18,300 men was on reserve duty today as a precaution against May Day disorders.
Following the same tactics employed in the preparation for the unemployment demonstration, March 6, Commissioner Grover A. Whalen ordered all members of the department on reserve duty from yesterday afternoon until tomorrow morning.
A detail of 1,000 police was ordered to Union Square, the scene of the unemployment day riot, where two meetings were arranged for today.
Plans of the Veterans of Foreign Wars included a patriotic rally in the square from 11 A. M. to 1 P. M. in celebration of Dewey Day. The Communists obtained a permit for a mass meeting to begin at 2 P. M. to celebrate May Day.
Police were under orders to utilize the hour between the two meetings to clear the square of loiterers to prevent clashes between sympathizers of the two groups.
Commissioner Whalen arranged to take personal charge of the police at Union Square, who were ordered to report without night sticks. The order against police batons was seen as an outcome of charges after the riot on March 6, that innocent spectators were beaten by police during the disorder.
Riot squads, armed with sub-machine guns and tear bombs, were held in readiness in case of serious disturbances.

ILLUSIVE ARRIVAL

HER coming was announced By a yellow bird—
I hastened out to find her
When I heard.

"She is just around the corner."
Called a buttercup.
A dandelion chuckled.
"I almost tripped her up."

"Here she knelt to see her face
And to take a drink."
Mimuli and mallows cried
From a river's brink.

The first wild iris whispered:
"We can give a hint—"
Follow where two small bare feet
Bruised the tender mint."

Then in the misty distance
Was a sudden shape
Of curves and slender graces
A girlish form might make.

"April," I shouted,
April—it is she!
When I reached the spot, I found
A white hawthorn tree.

HATPIN ON HORIZON AS SAILORS HATS LOOM

PARIS—(AP)—The return of long hair, hairpins and shignon has brought sailor hats back on the marcel waves.

Parasailing stylists say that hats are inevitably going upward and it is only a matter of time until they give up their present grip on the base of the skull and return to their prewar perch aloft.

When that happens, and here's the catch, some form of hatpin is inevitable.

Mother Jones, 100 Today; Hopes Judge Parker Is Defeated

BY CHARLES M. EGAN

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, May 1.—(UP)—From her sickbed in a Maryland farmhouse a little Irish woman who for 85 years has fought tirelessly for the cause of labor—even defying machine guns—is watching the battle in the Senate over the nomination of John J. Parker to the Supreme Court.

Even the bustle incidental to preparations for today's celebration of her 100th birthday anniversary, failed to distract Mother Jones from her consuming interest in the Parker debate.

"This is labor's fight, as she sees it, and the outcome is just as important to her as that of any of the historic struggles she participated in during her picturesque career."

"As I remember John Parker, he was a good man," Mother Jones told the United Press today. "But these 'yellow dog' contracts! Its things like those that got me started fighting for labor when I was only 15 years old. I haven't changed a whit since."

Mother Jones, whose full name is Mrs. Mary Harris Jones, hasn't been able to read newspaper accounts of the organized labor's fight against Parker, as her bright blue eyes are failing. However, Mrs. Walter Burgess, with whom she lives, keeps her well informed.

Mother Jones is confident labor will win this fight, all the more, she explains, because her old friend, Senator Borah is leading the opposition to the North Carolina jurist.

"I've lived a hard life, but I'd be willing to go through 50 more years of it to see Senator Borah in the White House," the aged labor crusader said.

Aware of the aged woman's feeling against prohibition the interviewer pointed out Senator Borah was perhaps the most zealous of the dries in the Senate.

"Oh, we could make him get over that," she retorted with a chuckle, settling herself better among her pillows.

Debs In Fury Over Royal Court Styles

London.—(UP)—There is consternation and anxiety among society debutantes here feverishly awaiting the five royal courts next month and in July.

They have learned that fashions for court gowns are to be very different this season. The authority for their knowledge is E. H. Symonds, managing director of Revilles, one of the leading court costumers in London.

Gowns, this year, he says, will rely on beauty of material and grace of line for distinction. The long-skirted princess gown will make an ideal court dress, he added.

The Queen is having materials and designs submitted to her at Windsor castle, where the court is now in residence, before making her choice.

Here is an example of a Reville gown that probably will be worn at one of the courts on May 14, 15, 27 or 28, or at the one early in July, a date for which has not yet been fixed. It gives an idea of the change in fashion.

It is of white satin cut on classical lines, fitting closely to the figure, with delicate diamond tracery at each side defining the princess line. It has a train of white satin lined with poinsettia scarlet georgette. A Grecian knot in diamante and pearls embroiders one corner of the square train, and from one shoulder falls a long tassel of idamante pearls and crystals.

Another gown of pale eglantine pink net, which had taken 25 yards of material, has a foliage design in narrow pink satin ribbon as pattern. The train is of silver lame, lined with pink net. A debutante's fan, in Prince of Wales design, of small white curled ostrich feathers goes with this gown.

Oxidized lace as a train, lined with orchid mauve georgette, is a decorative foil to another creation of pale orchid mauve satin beaute. The fan to be carried in this case is of shaded uncurled ostrich plumes from deep to palest orchid mauve. The length of the fan is 34 inches.

The arrangement of the regulation Prince of Wales court feathers is often a matter on which debutantes and dowagers take the ideas of the hairdresser instead of the court dress maker, according to Symonds.

The hairdresser is naturally inclined to use the feathers to decorative advantage, he added, but regulations decree that they must stand upright emblematical of the Prince of Wales' crest.

Scores of women in their court dresses find on arrival at Buckingham palace that their headresses have to be rearranged in accordance, not with artistic effect, but with the rules of the Lord Chamberlain's officials.

Everyone who is appearing in the throne room has to be seen officially, beforehand, in the anteroom, so that every detail of dress in the case of men and women about to enter the royal presence is in accordance with the regulations.

Alterations very often have to be made at the last moment.

Another court costumier is making a feature of frocks for debutante and dowager which show a matching idea.

A debutante's frock for example, of pale primrose tulle, will accord with her chaperone's train of primrose velvet.

Meeting Walnut Household Club

The April meeting of the Walnut Household Science club met at the Rev. Manny home, with Mrs. Winthe Knight and Mrs. Millie Gonigam assistant hostesses, Friday afternoon, April 25. There were present twenty-six members and four guests, Mrs. Lou Gonigam, Jr., Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Oscar Pierson and Miss Dorothy White.

A one act play, "Wanted a Husband," was cleverly given by Mrs. Lee Burkey, Mrs. Elmer Langford, Mrs. James Stephens and Mrs. Clarence Hatland. Mrs. Lee Burkey and Mrs. Olen Melton read excellent papers.

DRESSES OF STRAW FOR DANCING DEBS—

PARIS—(AP)—Lace straw, full-skirted dresses are recent additions to the debutante's dancing clothes.

One of the big houses of the Rue de la Paix brings out lace straw frocks over tulle foundations.

Accompanying the quaint stiff skirted frocks are crisp little jackets of bright colored taffeta.

Plants Not Harmful In Sleeping Rooms

The belief that plants should be removed from sleeping rooms at night because they might harm the slumberer was declared to be entirely without foundation by Dr. A. F. Woods, director of scientific work of the Agricultural Department.

Instead of plants being harmful they are beneficial, Dr. Woods said. During the day they give off oxygen and moisture and take up carbon dioxide. At night these processes slow down and small amounts of carbon dioxide are given off, but at whole greenhouse full of plants would not give off enough carbon dioxide to injuriously affect the composition of the air, he said.

Murray, managing officer at the Dixon State Hospital, is the head, will hold their annual meeting at the residence of Clarence H. Mackay, 3 East 75th street, New York, Thursday, May 8th at 4:30 o'clock. The Hon. Grover A. Whalen will speak. There will be tea and music.

Even Toyland Is Scientific Nowadays

Chicago, May 1.—(UP)—Modern children walk among their toys these days like young Gullivers in Lilliputia, for toyland now is this scientific age in miniature.

Johnny's airplane must be an exact model of some well-known make and it must fly the way big planes fly. Mary's kitchen stove, play size, must really cook and have a regulator for oven heat. Otherwise Johnny and Mary won't have them.

Proof that childhood has come of age, so to speak, in its toy wants, is furnished at the 5th annual Chicago toy fair at the Palmer House, Morrison and Sherman hotels where 200,000 toys are on display by 300 manufacturers.

But the show is not for the children. Bald-headed men wind the electric trains and gray-haired women turn on the singing dolls.

On a wooden ocean, a toy gunboat fires torpedoes and nearby a toy airplane carrier actually hurls its tiny planes into the air from its deck.

Replicas of crack railroad trains speed through tunnels, past automatic electric switches and safety gates, three-foot power houses and stations. This "toy" costs $250.

A Zeppelin, five and one-half feet long, actually soars and can be anchored to a six-foot mooring mast.

1/2 cup powdered sugar
1/2 cup cream.
Add salt to milk and place in top of boiler. When the boiling point is reached, add rice and cook until tender (30 to 45 minutes). Drain, sweeten with powdered sugar, and pour into ring mould to set. When ready to serve, turn out carefully on large plate. Fill center with jam, and garnish with whipped cream.

Ripe plum jam, cherry jam, or cranberry marmalade make excellent fillings.

Roast Lamb With Mint Jelly
Mint enhances the deliciousness of lamb. After roasting the lamb in the usual way surround it with small individual servings of mint jelly. Garnish the dish and top of roast with water-cress or parsley.

Mint Jelly
1/2 cup apple vinegar.
1 cup water.
Green coloring.
3 1/2 cups (1 lb. 7 oz.) sugar.
1/2 cup bottled pectin.
1/2 to 1 1/2 teaspoons spearmint extract.

Combine vinegar and water, and add enough coloring to give tint desired. Add sugar, stir, and bring to a boil. At once add pectin, stirring constantly, and bring again to a full rolling boil and boil 1/2 minute. Remove from fire and add spearmint extract, according to flavor desired. Let stand 1 minute, skim and pour quickly. Cover hot jelly with film of hot paraffin; when jelly is cold, cover with 1/2 inch of hot paraffin. Roll glass to spread paraffin on sides. If lemon juice is used instead of vinegar, use 1 1/2 cups water and strained juice of 2 lemons. Makes 4 to 5 eight-ounce glasses.

"I'M SORRY FOR MY WIFE."

In Los Angeles a confessed murderer is awaiting trial.

In love with a married woman, he killed her husband. Now, caught, he is in jail, and he may be hanged. He says that he "feels better" now that he has confessed; but he adds:

"I feel very sorry for my poor wife. I wonder how I can explain all of this to her."

His bewilderment is only natural, at that. After all, it is a thing that will take a bit of explaining.

But the interesting thing is the way in which this gentleman follows the regular pattern that seems to be laid down for murderers of his type.

"I feel very sorry for my poor wife."

How often—how very, very often—have we not heard that unctuous statement from the lips of some man whose Lothario-escapades have finally landed him in an inextricable jam? It seems to be the inevitable thing for a man to say when it is finally too late for his pity to be of any use. "My poor wife"—after he has broken faith irretrievably and wrecked her life to the full limit of his ability.

Dr. Snook said it, and Judd Gray, and other depicable specimens, too numerous to mention. But why does it always have to come so late?

Murders like these—crimes of passion, as to the French call them—are always the final climax to a long series of indiscretions and follies. They come when a situation has progressed so far, and has got its principals into such a hopeless tangle, that a deed of violence looks like the only solution.

But it is noteworthy that the men in such cases never stop to consider their wives until at last the catastrophe has come. Then they are full of pity. They berate themselves soundly, and beg forgiveness. And—wives being a long-suffering race—the forgiveness is usually granted.

It is all rather disgusting, and it puts the erring husband in a pretty poor sort of light.

Why, oh why can't a man who has put his foot into a mess like that take what comes to him without crawfishing? Why can't he understand that an expression of pity and a plea for forgiveness are worse than useless?

Probably that's too much to expect. There will always be a certain type of man who will follow his self-indulgence until it leads him to disaster; and that type, unless human nature changes, will always realize, just too late, that he has been a colossal sap, and will squeal that he really does love his wife very, very much after all.

LOST: 1,500,000 YEARS.

It takes cold figures to make one realize the importance of cutting down America's annual toll of accidents.

Figures issued by an insurance company show that American adults last year lost just one and one-half million years because of accidents.

These years were lost as a result of occupational accidents, on the one hand, and traffic and home accidents on the other. The traffic accidents alone represented a monetary loss of $3,000,000,000, and the other accidents would prove fully as expensive.

Those figures hardly seem reasonable; yet insurance company statisticians have a way of being accurate. They emphasize anew the great importance of finding some way of conducting our lives in greater safety.

FOR PERFUMED STREETS.

The bright ideas of some of our foreign visitors certainly do provide a filip for the imagination, now and then.

One George Klotz, a Parisian perfumer, visiting New York, comes to bat with the following gem:

The famous sidewalks of New York, says M. Klotz, smell badly. Why, therefore, should not the city install huge perfume atomizers on each fire plug, spraying sweet scents into the air and making of each street a highway of olfactory delights?

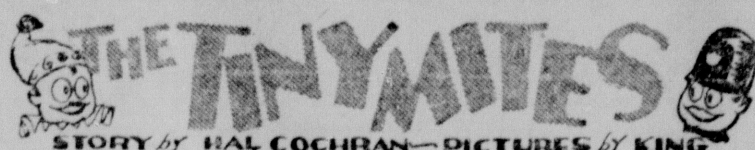

Why not, indeed? The idea has great possibilities. And an excellent place to start, it seems to us, would be not New York, but the stockyard district of Chicago. If the scheme works there it is the inspiration of the century.

BASEBALL AT NIGHT.

The Des Moines club of the Western League is going to try playing its baseball games at night this season, according to press dispatches. Huge flood lights have been installed, and engineers promise that conditions of visibility, for players and spectators, will be quite as good as they are in daytime.

This may be quite true; yet, somehow, the plain fails to thrill us. For baseball, after all, is pre-eminently a game of sunlight. The long shadows, slanting across the diamond as the sun draws back of the grandstand, are an essential feature. Half of the fun of attending a game comes from the feeling of well-being that the warm sunlight brings.

Beside—what would baseball be without its sun field?

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinies played an hour or so. Then Clowny said, "Come on! Let's go! We've seen enough of this canal. But, where shall we go next?" The Travel Man said, "Well, let's see! I guess the answer's up to me." And then he stood still, thinking. He was really quite perplexed.

At last he said, "I have a hunch that it would please this merry bunch if we would head for Germany. What do you think of that?" Wee Coppy shouted, "Oh, that's fine! I'll pick that very trip for mine." The others, too, seemed quite enthused and Clowny waved his hat.

Then Scouty said, "How will we go? That is what I would like to know. It's much too far to walk. I'm sure. Let's ride there in a train." "Oh, no!" replied the Travel Man. "I think I have a better plan. We'll go right back to Amsterdam. From there we'll take a plane."

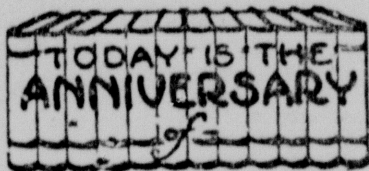

And so they rushed down to the dock and there they shortly found a flock of little boats that they could hire. They picked a speedy one! Then, as the whole bunch hopped aboard, "We're off!" the merry boatman roared. They sailed out on the Zuider Zee and it was heaps of fun.

When once in Amsterdam they went out to a flying field and spent an hour or so in getting set to take off in the air. A great big plane was chartered soon. The big propeller hummed a tune and as they slowly sailed right up it seemed a treat quite rare.

All of a sudden Clowny said, "I promise I will never dread to ride within a great big plane, no matter where we roam. Just look how strong this plane is made. There is no cause to feel afraid. And, when you're once inside of it, it's really just like home."

MAY DAY

May Day, the survival of an ancient festival observed by the Romans in honor of Flora, the goddess of flowers, is celebrated the first of May by the crowning of a May Queen and the dancing about a May pole.

In mediaeval times the day was celebrated with much pomp and ceremony. It was the custom in early England for boys and girls to go out on May Day, gather hawthorn or "May" along the country lanes, find the fairest maiden and crown her "Queen of the May." They then set up the May pole and danced throughout the day.

This same custom still survives in country districts, and attempts are being made to revive it in schools in England as a general celebration.

Toward the end of the 19th century, various labor organizations in Europe adopted May Day as the occasion of annual demonstrations. In some countries the day was frequently marked by clashes between workers and government troops.

that sort of hokum are passed up in a minute for the advertising pages displaying just what one may encounter at the favorite theaters any where. That is where the public works hand in hand with the producer and advertiser.

If there ever existed any kick in press agenting, it has faded out and the eye immediately turns to the legitimate and constructive, much of which is fulsome at times. But the business man, the producer, the farmer and the artisan are fusing with the direct purpose of up building communal establishments. Aside from personal experiences, no one knows more than he reads. The vast American commercial concerns are amply alive to the situation and are keeping in touch with a system of distribution along all lines that has inspired confidence and created business and employment. Half of the success of such institutions consists of acquainting the prospective buyer with the item he desires through legitimate and honest publicity and advertising. Doing the buying at home is always a fair enough idea, but the matter of buying, at least, is the fixed element for argument, and the newspaper would appear to be about the best middle agency provided in the business distribution.

HERD OF HUNGRY GOATS ALWAYS RETURN HOME

HybridVarietyEscapes Brambles, But Eats Everything

Merry Hill, N. C.—(UP)—State Senator E. S. Askew, Bertie county, owns a herd of 100 "boomerang" goats—they always come back.

The herd was started several years ago with a pair of Angols. Angols have long hair, and the many reeds and briars in the Roanoke river section kept Senator Askew busy untangling his goats, so he decided to cross them with ordinary billy goats.

The present goats do not get stuck in briar patches, but they inherited enormous appetites. They have eaten almost everything around the Askew farm except the water pump.

In the flock are goats of various names. One is called "Washing," because he ate the entire laundry of a negro tenant, consumed clothes lines and whetted his teeth on the clothes pins.

Another has been named "Tin Can." He ate the paper off cans in the trash pile and tried to swallow a tomato can when the red label stuck. Senator Askew had quite a time making the goat "tough up."

One goat is called "Overalls" because he ate that garment off a farm hand taking a nap after a heavy dinner. Another is named "Topsy" because she ate the rubber top of the family automobile.

Before Senator Askew learned of the enormous appetites of the cross-bred goats, he sold a few kids to the neighbors.

They soon brought the goats back with such explanations as "My children love Billy but Billy loves fruit trees and flower bushes too much."

One little boy said Billy ate the family Bible and "Ma says I got to bring him back to you."

Senator Askew now lends the goats out, warning friends of their appetites, and showing them the acres of new land the goats have eaten clean except for a few scattered pines.

Like a boomerang the goats always come back.

Who wouldn't turn pirate to become a subject of Mary Jane Montfort, above, of Miami, selected queen of swashbuckling collegians who compose the "Pirates," outstanding social organization at the University of Florida at Gainesville? That pensive, wistful expression would cause almost any daring buccaneer to pledge allegiance to the queen.

and shows a balance on hand of $1000. To this must be added the taxes now being collected which will be sufficient to increase the cash on hand to approximately $2500 for carrying on during the new fiscal year. It was only 12 years ago that the village well broke down and at the same time the treasury was empty and many floating debts were outstanding. Things looked rather blue as far as village finances were concerned. West Brooklyn folks did not give up. Since then the well has been put in shape, and is working fine; a new bridge built across the creek at the school house; water main extensions laid to all parts of town; sewer tile project completed for the benefit of the portion of town lying south of the railroad tracks; additional street lights installed; and every street in West Brooklyn graveled. These items are given mention because they are extraordinary improvements aggregating in cost $15,000 and all have been paid for in addition to conducting the regular affairs of the village. Taxes perhaps have been quite high to permit all this to be accomplished but now our village officials predict lower levies for tax purposes and this is good news in such times as these when the tendencies seem to be for higher tax levies. We believe we are correct in stating that no special tax has ever been levied in West Brooklyn for village purposes. West Brooklyn people must work together in the right way to accomplish all these things.

RIVETS MAKE THE TRUCK TANK GASOLINE-TIGHT

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE is gas-tight and dust-tight because it is riveted WALLS and ceilings seldom have to be repapered or repainted in a home that's heated with a Torrid Zone Furnace of boiler-plate steel. Floors, furniture and woodwork are singularly free from dust. It's all in the way this furnace is built.

For just as the truck tank is made gasoline-tight by hot-riveting and cold-calking... so the Torrid Zone is made gas, smoke and dust-tight.

And the air in a Torrid Zone equipped home is bound to be clean and healthful... for several reasons. First, the air is never tainted with coal-gas. Second, the air is moistfully healthful because a Torrid Zone humidifier has twice the evaporating area of ordinary water pans right inside the casing and, furthermore, is positioned for most rapid evaporation. Third, proper air circulation is guaranteed when a Lennox Furnace man installs according to the Standard Code. A Lennox Torrid Zone equipped home is a safe and healthy home for every member of the family.

And what's more, the Torrid Zone is economical. It is designed to heat with from 10% to 20% less fuel than ordinary furnaces. Whatever your fuel... hard coal, soft coal, coke, lignite, wood, gas, oil... it is sure to go farther with a Torrid Zone! Without a doubt, this is the finest heating unit that science has devised. Wherever it operates, in homes, churches, schools or stores, all the many advantages of warm air heating are fully realized.

Come in and see the interesting features. We want to show you its sturdy locomotive grates, its "lazy" shaker. We want to give you a booklet describing other features. Plans and estimates will be quickly furnished on request. Free engineering service from the factory for special problems. Made by the LENNOX FURNACE COMPANY, Syracuse, New York—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

GREAT BRITISH FISHING FLEET POINTS SEAWARD

North Sea Is Expected to Give Up Greatest Catch Since World War

Lowestoff, England, May 1.—(UP)—The vanguard of Great Britain's fishing fleet of 13,000 vessels sailed into the North Sea today to open what is expected to be the most successful fishing season since the beginning of the World War.

Modern steel drifter trawlers and red-sailed drifters sped out for the fishing grounds from this historic fishing port while women and children lined the quay and waved farewell. All along the English and Scottish coasts other fishermen put out with their new nets in readiness for the season's catch.

The 1930 season will be marked by the attempt to discover new fisheries which will compensate for the thinning out of fish in the home waters. In search of hitherto untouched fishing grounds, British fishermen are expected to sail far into the unexplored Arctic reaches.

The staunch fishermen of Britain already ply their nets from Barents Sea to Morocco. For many years they have frequented the seas from Spitzbergen to Greenland as well as along the entire west coast of Europe.

The zeal for discovery this year has been stimulated by the decision of the government to build an exploration ship at a cost of $400,000. When completed, the ship will explore the ocean bottoms in quest of new marine life and trace the ocean currents far into the north.

The airplane also may be used in the explorations, although it hitherto has proved of little use in spotting fish because of the mud-colored waters in the fishing grounds.

Last year British fishermen brought in about 2,500,000,000 pounds of fish, the biggest catch since 1913. The total value was estimated at $97,978,390.

About 34,000 men are directly employed in fishing. The loss of life during a year owing to wrecks and foundering averages about 35.

The remarkable catch of last year is mainly responsible for the optimistic feeling this season. Lowestoff alone has built 12 new drifter-trawlers at a cost of $500,000. The vessels from this port begin herring fishing off the Irish coast and work their way from one migrating shoal to another past the Shetland Isles and the north-east coast until after a month of refitting in September they are ready for the great autumn season off the Norfolk coast.

Lowestoff exported 1,104,698 barrels.

Referring to the Baltic countries last summer and a further 687,000 during the autumn.

Slayers Of "Wrong Man" Given Life

Scottsboro, Ala., April 30.—(UP)—A verdict of guilty was returned here today against Mrs. Myrtle Berry Graham, 20, and Miss Newby Motes, 19, in the "wrong man" murder of Harry Cunningham, 21. Judge W. A. Hawkins immediately sentenced both to life imprisonment.

Neither displayed emotion when the verdict was announced. The jury had been out for almost 24 hours.

The defense offered at the trial was that Cunningham was mistaken for a youth who had responded to Mrs. Graham's flirtatious advances by slapping her.

Admittedly intoxicated, the two women pursued Cunningham and Mrs. Graham stabbed him.

DEATH ENDS SEARCH.
LaSalle, Ill., April 30.—(AP)—Death has ended a search for Leo Dick, 47, who disappeared in November, 1929. Dick died in Detroit Tuesday.

Dick, organist for St. Valentine's church here, disappeared on the way to deposit a large sum of money in a bank. No trace of him was found until his death was reported. He had been employed as an organist in Detroit. The widow lives here.

Ranch Hand Kills Three: Disappears

Modesto, Calif., April 29.—(UP)—An itinerant ranch worker who shot and killed three men without any apparent motive was hunted today by scores of deputies and volunteers in the dense underbrush along the San Joaquin river, 15 miles west of here.

The ranch hand, known as Bill Crowley, killed Joseph Barton after a struggle in the doorway of the latter's bunkhouse on the Anthony Nunes ranch.

After killing Barton, Crowley walked to the Glenn Crow ranch, a few hundred yards away and shot John Murphy and Deloise C. Fultz while they slept. Witnesses said Crowley appeared intoxicated.

After the shooting Crowley surrendered to John Hutch, an auto camp operator, and handed him a rifle, saying:

"I just had a fight with three guys and killed them."

Then he waited while Hutch sent a boy four miles to the nearest telephone to notify the Sheriff.

Crowley became impatient. Hutch said and walked off toward the river, stating:

"I'll notify the Sheriff by mail."

... Did you Turn Off the Water Heater?

HOW often is this question asked in your home? Morning, afternoon, evening—even at night—the constant demands of an old type water heater.

Have you ever watched yourself—is this the way you do it? First thing in the morning, down the basement to light the water heater—nine o'clock, after the breakfast dishes are washed, to turn it out—about half past eleven down again to have hot water for the kiddies to wash up when they come in from school—one o'clock once more to turn it out—four o'clock down again to light up for dinner—six o'clock to turn it out. About ten in the evening—oh well, I'll not take a bath tonight. Too tired.

More and more people recognize the convenience of a

FORMER HOBO IN AMERICA BUILDS GREAT RAILROAD

Ex-Apostle Of Less Work And More Pay Has Changed Much

Chicago, May 1.—(UP)—Bums along West Madison street reminisced today about an old buddy whom they knew as "Wild Bill" Shatoff in his freight-hopping, soap-box-haranguing days twelve years ago.

For news had come from the far eastern republic in Siberia of the completion of the Siberian-Turkistan Railroad and the awarding of further honors to Vladimir Segorovich Shatoff, Minister of Transportation and moving force in the completion of the railroad, which is designed to make the Turkistan wastes a rich cotton field.

The builder of this 1,700 mile railroad, opening of which was celebrated with elaborate ceremonies, is the same "Wild Bill" Shatoff who once urged the West Madison Street bums to adopt the Communist principle of "less work and more pay."

Shatoff first came to attention as Director of the Union of Russian Workers of the United States and Canada in New York. Thereafter he roamed the country, working at odd jobs, and preaching his Communist doctrine.

Between times he found time to write a book on Communism and lectured in scores of cities.

When the Russian revolution broke out, he decided to get in with the leaders from the start. He was placed in command of a division and helped repel the drive of Gen. Yudenich on what then was Petrograd. For that feat he was awarded the decoration of the Red Banner and given a post tantamount to Chief of Police of Petrograd.

Honors and responsibilities came fast. He co-operated with Serebrovski to put the Soviet oil industry on its feet and was a director of the Soviet metal trust. Then he was given the post of supervisor of the far eastern republic's transportation system and began one of the most ambitious railroad building programs of modern times, in which as many as 60,000 men have been employed.

"The prettiest picture to me," he was quoted by an American newspaper correspondent after he had begun the Siberian-Turkistan Railroad, "is smoking factory chimneys and the sweetest music is the rattle of machinery."

Thus the man who wandered over the United States preaching less work and more pay and fomenting strikes has become an apostle of more work and less pay and a master hand at preventing strikes.

Witness To Murder Of Lincoln Is Dead

Chicago, April 30.—(UP)—Edward Holy, said to be the only Chicagoan who witnessed the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, died at his home here yesterday. He was 82 years old. Holy recently rescribed the scene at Ford's Theater in Washington when Lincoln was shot. He said he had been on "good behavior" for days so that his uncle would take him to the theater. Holy, who was 17, had just come here from Czecho-Slovakia, he said, and when he learned that the President would be at the theater on the night he was to attend, he was almost overwhelmed with delight. He and Mrs. Holy celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Feb. 27, 1927.

Two Die In Flames At Oil Refinery

Chicago, April 30.—(AP)—Two men were burned alive in oil early today in an explosion at the refinery of the Dabros Products Corporation. Four others escaped unhurt, dragging with them a fifth, so severely burned he is not expected to live. The explosion was believed to have been caused when oil maintained at a refining temperature of 700 degrees Fahrenheit, became overheated while being poured into a 500 gallon still. The explosion sent a column of burning oil through the metal roof and one side of the plant.

James Fleming, foreman of the exploding still, was one of those burned to death. In a laboratory twenty feet away, the body of Walter Kitch, 22-year-old, recently a graduate student at Chicago, was found. Kitch had entered the refinery's employ only two days ago. He had been trapped by the wall of fire. Damage was estimated by refinery officials at $160,000.

BUSINESS today requires that the successful man be physically fit and mentally alert. Men, especially, forget themselves physically. Their work demands practically all their time. They do not exercise enough. They get little or no sunshine. They are robbed of a good appetite . . . and when their red-blood-cells fall below normal their flesh becomes flabby, their nerves unsteady. Their strength must be re-inforced.

Soundness of body and peace of mind depend upon the proper number of red-cells in the blood—5,000,000 to the cubic millimeter. They give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. It is dangerous to let the red-cell count remain below normal. S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It helps Nature build rich, red-blood-cells. It promotes healthy body building. Baseball Summary

PLAY GAME TONIGHT

Des Moines, Ia., May 1—(AP)—A new era in minor league baseball may be in the offing if the dreams of Lee Keyser, president of the Des Moines Western League team, come true. Seeking a remedy to the dwindling attendance at the ball games, Keyser conceived the idea of installing huge electric projectors at his park to enable the playing of the national pastime at night.

The big test of Keyser's venture will come tomorrow night when the Des Moines team will play the Wichita Aviators. Notables of the sport from all sections of the country will be here to pass judgment on the innovation which Keyser hopes will alleviate the financial ills of the minor leagues.

Steel towers, some 90 feet high, have been constructed outside the park to support the mammoth light projectors which will throw light totaling more than 40,000,000 candle power.

So brilliant are the illuminating powers of the plant that thousands of birds, under the illusion that it was sun-up, flocked about the park last night while a test was being made.

While no one is more intently interested in the project than Keyser and F. W. Ralston, an engineer from Lynn, Mass., whose fertile mind conceived the idea of modern night baseball back in 1923, baseball men throughout the land are waiting the results of the Des Moines experiment. Judge K. M. Landis, High Commis-

CUBS SET RECORD

Chicago, May 1—(AP)—After sixteen straight days of work, a record for the national spring season, the champion Chicago Cubs finally drew a day off today.

The vacation was a scheduled one to give their next opponents, the Philadelphia Nationals, travel time to Chicago.

The Cubs are the only ones in the majors to play every scheduled game this season, the St. Louis Cardinals are next with thirteen played.

UMPIRES GO TO SCHOOL

Chicago, May 1—(AP)—American Association umpires went to school today, receiving instructions from President Thomas J. Hickey.

Taking advantage of an off-schedule day all around the circuit, the arbiters gathered before Hickey to learn interpretations of rules and get some human nature studies of the players, managers and fans they have to deal with.

With the exception of last Sunday's riot at Toledo during the Milwaukee-Toledo game, the umpires report a pleasant reception so far this season. Manager Casey Stengel of the Toledo club drew an indefinite suspension for his part in the trouble.

Despite the weather, attendance at American Association parks is far ahead of last season, Hickey reported today.

Pike And Pickerel Can Now Be Caught

Two important sections of the Illinois fishing code became effective yesterday. The closed season on pike and pickerel terminated yesterday and today these game fish may be taken from Illinois streams where they can be found. Several have been caught and some returned to the waters here this spring.

Effective today no fish caught in Illinois streams may be offered for sale on the market. Catfish which have been taken from Rock river and placed on the local market are protected during the month of May and not even the rough fish are permitted to be sold during the next 30 day period.

Never Landed Right

The result last night bears out "Tuffy's statement for Gagnon kept his right hand ready for the entire ten rounds and never did land it."

One or twice the right hand grazed Griffith's head but it never did any damage. In winning the fight, Griffith showed something he never had exhibited here before, a straight left to the head.

Countless times he sent the left to the nose, after Gagnon had started a right cross. The left won the decision for Tuffy for it landed so often that there was no comparison between the two fighters.

Gagnon obviously was out for a knockout. He carried his left hand out and the right hand poised for the entire fight. But every time he shot a right Griffith was some place else.

In three rounds Tuffy staggered

GRIFFITH PROVES HE'S BETTER MAN THAN JACK GAGNON

He Completely Outclassed Boston Sailor Boy Last Evening

BY BERT DEMBY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Ill., May 1—(UP)—Gerard Ambrose Griffith, the tough young man from Sioux City, Ia., was back among the contenders for the heavyweight title today, rather disgraced but ready for all-comers.

The disgust was because he failed to knock out Jack Gagnon in their return meeting last night in the Chicago Stadium, but Griffith so convincingly outpointed his opponent that there was no doubt as to who is the better man.

Tuffy previously had lost to Gagnon by a technical knockout in Philadelphia and he hoped to avenge the defeat by knocking out Jack last night, but he ran into an opponent who refused to hit the floor.

But in winning a decision Griffith proved that his "out of condition" contention in the Philadelphia fight, were justified. Gagnon floored him five times in the Quaker City. Griffith contended that this was the result of his timing being off.

Never Landed Right

The result last night bears out "Tuffy's statement for Gagnon kept his right hand ready for the entire ten rounds and never did land it."

One or twice the right hand grazed Griffith's head but it never did any damage. In winning the fight, Griffith showed something he never had exhibited here before, a straight left to the head.

Countless times he sent the left to the nose, after Gagnon had started a right cross. The left won the decision for Tuffy for it landed so often that there was no comparison between the two fighters.

Gagnon obviously was out for a knockout. He carried his left hand out and the right hand poised for the entire fight. But every time he shot a right Griffith was some place else.

In three rounds Tuffy staggered his opponent. Those rounds were the second, fifth and eighth. In the second Griffith shot home a hard right to the jaw which sent the Boston sailor back on his heels. Tuffy waded in then with everything he had but Gagnon covered up with gloves and elbows and remained on his feet.

For Griffith the fight meant what promises to be a big outdoor shot here this summer with Otto Von port.

Matchmaker Nate Lewis of the Chicago Stadium promises to match Griffith with Von Port within a short time, with a view to obtaining the leading middleweight challenge for the heavyweight title left vacant by Gene Tunney.

DON'T PAY THE PENALTY OF HARMFUL GUM IN GASOLINE

IMAGINE what a sticky, gummy, clinging substance does to the valves in your automobile. Think how your engine labors—how your valves must fight to get free—and the power you lose with gum-stuck valves.

That is exactly what happens when you buy inferior or carelessly refined gasolines that contain an excessive gum content.

To be safe insist on Koolmotor—the original high test, anti-knock green gasoline. Harmful gum has been removed from this superior motor fuel by extra refining and extra care known as the Cities Service mini-gum process. The gum content has been reduced to a harmless minimum. This powerful, clean-burning gasoline keeps your valves clean and free moving. It guarantees full power and full speed. It allows your engine to do its best.

Beware of gasolines weighted with gum. Don't place this extra burden on your engine. Insist on Koolmotor Gasoline for a clean, smooth-running motor.

FILIPINO LABOR PROBLEM IS UP FOR DISCUSSION

Hearing Bring Out The Whereabouts of Bulk of Immigrants

BY HARRY W. FRANTZ

United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, May 1.—(UPI)—The Filipino immigrant has become the central figure in a new political drama which ardent Californians call "The Asiatic Invasion." The Chinese Coolie and the Japanese schoolboy are forgotten as politicians struggle to establish the identity of the personality whose exclusion from or admission to the United States is likely to be a political theme for the next decade.

By California witnesses before the House Immigration Committee in support of the Welch Bill for exclusion, the Filipino immigrant was pictured generally as a city-dwelling, white-collared workman, formidably competitive with American labor in the light industrial tasks which hitherto fell to middle-aged and elderly workers.

The Filipino was represented, moreover, as unduly gregarious—dwelling in crowded houses; and as a social menace because of his alleged undue fondness for the companionship of white girls. It was evident from the hearings that some elements in California regard the Filipino immigrant as more objectionable than his Chinese and Japanese predecessors.

Filipino witnesses, however, pictured the Filipino in this country as a very different type. He was most frequently represented as an ambitious young man struggling for an education, who hoped eventually to return to the Philippines. His tasks, it was represented, were in the great majority of cases non-competitive. He generally maintained high standards of personal conduct, kept out of trouble, and rarely married a white woman.

American officials before the committee estimated the Filipino population of mainland United States at not more than 55,000, of whom the majority were men who originally had come to Hawaii as plantation laborers but subsequently had moved over to the mainland.

Dr. Hilario Camino Moncado, president of the Filipino Federation of America, believed however that there may be 65,000 Filipinos in the United States.

Moncado gave the committee enlightening information on the whereabouts and economic activities of these Filipinos, likely to have a bearing on the committee's future deliberations.

Many of the 4000 Filipinos in the vicinity of New York are engaged in steward work on United States naval vessels. Their concentration there is due to the presence of the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Some have left the war-vessels and have taken up shore occupations in order to attend night schools.

Moncado claimed that of five thousand Filipinos in Chicago, over half are attending schools or colleges.

Two thousand Filipinos in Louisiana are engaged in fishing and trapping of fur-bearing animals. Many of them have been there for a long number of Filipinos is engaged in cane-fields. A hundred Filipinos in Washington, practically all are in colleges or universities, many studying for advanced degrees in law and economics.

The Alaskan fish canneries are an important center of Filipino activity. The Filipinos go there from San Francisco and Puget Sound in the summer season, improving the opportunity for a quick cash clean-up in the brief summer packing season; and then re-enter school in the fall.

In the state of Washington, Filipino workers in lumber camps and fruit orchards were reported to have encountered resistance from white workers.

The real zone of friction between Filipinos and white workers, however, appeared to be in California, where about 30,000 of the Filipinos now dwell. They came chiefly from Hawaii, expecting to find larger opportunities than were available on the Hawaiian plantations.

Recognizing a real problem in California, Vincent Villamin, prominent Filipino attorney of New York, has suggested the following solution:

"Let the Hawaiian planters refuse to employ Filipinos coming direct from the Philippines; and let them meet their labor requirements by recruiting the Filipinos from the Pacific coast."

"The plan will solve four problems: it will keep the Filipinos from leaving the Philippines in great numbers; it should appease the Filipino exclusionist agitation in America; it will meet the Filipino unemployment problem on the Pacific Coast, and it will satisfy the need of Hawaii for Filipino labor."

"The majority of the Filipinos on the Pacific Coast came from Hawaii, whether they were brought by the Hawaiian planters as contract laborers. They moved to the mainland, thinking they would improve their economic condition, only to experience the saddest disillusionment. It is believed, especially at this time, that many of them can be induced to return to Hawaii and take up their old jobs. Contrary to general belief, most of these Filipinos are peaceful, tractable, and efficient when given fair treatment."

Jimerson Woman To Seek Another Trial

Buffalo, N. Y., April 30.—(AP)—Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, having refused to take her case, Lila Jimerson, Indian woman who pleaded guilty to a second degree murder charge recently, announced today she would make demand Friday for a new trial, with the stakes death in the electric chair or freedom. She is accused of having inspired the murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, wife of Henri Marchand, artist and sculptor.

The decision of the Indian woman, who faces a sentence of twenty years to life imprisonment on her original plea, came after a visit to her cell of Chief Raymond W. Jimerson of the Iroquois Nation, and the Rev. L. E. H. Smith, pastor of a Methodist Episcopal church in Buffalo. Following the conference they announced that new evidence of which Mr. Darrow had not been apprised had been uncovered.

Darrow gave as his reason for declining to take the case the opinion that no principle was involved.

"HEAVY DUTY"

tells you what it is—but not how fine it looks!

When Goodyear puts the words "Heavy Duty" on the side-wall of a tire, everybody knows those words mean extra strength, extra service, extra wear.

But in its new Heavy Duty balloon, Goodyear now puts something more—an outward beauty quite as superior as its inner excellence.

This great new tire is ruggedly handsome, massively proportioned, and around either side-wall below its extra-thick and extra-safe All-Weather Tread runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

A striking feature is the way in which the outer rows of All-Weather blocks are prised down into the side-walls, as fresh and unhackneyed a modeling as distinguishes modern sculpture.

Goodyear builds this new Heavy Duty balloon tire for those who want to drive fast and far without worry, and are willing to pay a little extra for that privilege.

If you want to dress up your car and soothe down your anxieties, go see the nearest Goodyear Dealer, and have him change over your tires to new Goodyear Heavy Duty balloons today!

EAST WIND

I DREAM of a languorous, tideless shore,
Of azure light in magic caves;
Of heathery hills with summits hoar,
That wade knee-deep in northern waves;
Of rainbow sails like butterflies
That flutter to an Old World quay;
Of a buried city lies
Beneath the sands of Brittany.
Nay! But my own New England coast,
Pungent with wild rose, pine, and bay;
Brown marsh, white sand, gray rocks
That boast
The fiercest surf, the wildest spray!
Ho! For me,
Where the white, white sails go flashing to the sea;
And the sea wind is the east wind,
as the sea wind ought to be!

I dream of a castle-covered height;
Of gardens with eternal flowers,
And mossy fountains gleaming white,
Of lemon groves and myrtle bowers;
Of fairy glens and haunted halls,
Where mystery walks to and fro;
Of palaces on gay canals;
Of English green, and Alpenglow.
Nay! But New England's apple trees,
Her homely houses, square and plain,
The simple gardens loved of bees,
The maple groves, the firs of Maine!
Ho! For me,
Where the spring comes slowly, like a play to see;
And the sea wind is the east wind,
as the sea wind ought to be!
—Able Farwell Brown, in "Heart of New England."

Ideal Club Banquet Last Evening Was Enjoyable Event

At the annual banquet given by the Ideal Club at the Coffee House last evening the husbands of the members were guests, twenty being seated at the beautifully decorated tables to enjoy the tempting banquet. The tables were gay in the club colors, most appropriate for spring, in green and white. Narcissus and ferns were the floral decorations. Each lady received a corsage of violets, and each gentleman a boutonniere.

After the banquet a happy evening was enjoyed at the attractive new home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swim, where a program of guessing contests, music and games was provided for the amusement of all. Mrs. Lloyd Lewis as chairman of the program committee deserves credit for the enjoyable evening experienced. Mr. Swim gave several delightful songs and there was community singing, and a humorous feature was the initiation of each gentleman into the membership of the Ideal club. Late in the evening delicious refreshments of frappe and cake were served, completing the pleasure of all in attendance and wedding another nugget in the golden chain of memory for the Ideal club members, and guests.

Chain State Parks To Be Memorials of Historical Illinois

Carthage, Ill., May 1.—(UP)—A chain of state parks which would be used to utilize, reclaim and improve every important spot in Illinois hallowed by history as well as serve as memorials to famous Illinoisians is under consideration by state officials, according to H. H. Cleaveland, Director of the State Department of Public Works and Buildings.

Cleaveland, addressing a district convention of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, here last night, declared that Governor L. L. Emmerson is completing plans to establish such a system of state parks.

"Illinois is rich in places of great scenic beauty, and historical interest, which should be preserved as a sacred heritage to future generations," said Cleaveland.

He mentioned specifically the erection of a memorial to General

George Rogers Clark on the site of old Fort Kaskaskia on a high bluff overlooking the confluence of the Okaw river with the Mississippi river, and suggested the federation undertake the task of promoting it.

"Our country is so new and our growth has been so rapid that little or no attention has been given to conserving our historic spots, or places or unusual scenic value," Cleaveland said. "Wild life once so abundant has been diminishing rapidly; our forests have been disappearing; cities and industry have polluted our streams and the great outdoors, which only a few years ago was available to all, has in a large measure been swallowed up by our rapidly increasing population, and the advancing strides of modern civilization.

ways enjoyable affairs and this

END OF PRISON DISORDER CAME NONE TOO SOON

Evidence Of Two Plots At Wholesale Jail De- livery Found

By HARRY W. SHARPE
United Press Staff Correspondent
Columbus, O., May 1.—(UP)—The Ohio state penitentiary convict mutiny was a closed chapter today, but he end came none too soon.

Within a few hours after National Guardsmen had placed the recalcitrant prisoners behind two barbed wire enclosures, separating the more dangerous convicts from their followers, an inspection crew touring the impaled "white city" cell houses discovered evidence of two plots to effect a wholesale escape.

A hole one foot square was found to have been drilled through a steel wall on the fifth range of the cell house which has been the seat of most of the trouble the last nine days. Several steel drills were found in nearby cells.

Second Plot Uncovered
Down on the first floor of the cell house the second plot was uncovered. Fragments of masonry chipped from an inner wall showed where some of the convicts were trying to burrow through. The guardsmen also found a hiding place where the prisoners had concealed twenty steel lock pins. These, according to Colonel Robert Haubrich, National Guard commander, could have been used as weapons in a hand-to-hand encounter with guards.

Aside from the momentary excitement occasioned by these discoveries, the prison presented a quiet aspect today. It was Warden P. E. Thomas' 17th anniversary of his tenure in office, and the veteran official appeared well satisfied the backbone of the convict rebellion had been broken.

Soldiers on Duty
Behind the barbed wire entanglement thrown about the old prison warehouse, the most dangerous element among the prisoners gave no sign of making trouble. As long as the troopers remained within the prison walls instead of the regular guards, they seemed content to obey orders. These convicts, numbering 150, probably will be divided and sent to other penal institutions as soon as complete normalcy is restored.

The other barbed wire enclosure surrounded a tent city of 650 men whom officials feel can be more readily trusted. The segregation was effected just after the mess hour last evening. Each prisoner was searched carefully before he was led to one of the two enclosures and several were found to have daggers, fashioned from scissors and other tools.

Baseball Gossip

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Among the numerous surprises of the early weeks of the major league campaign must be listed the showing of the Chicago White Sox. Chicago, like Washington, was listed as a probable second division club and has been right up among the American League leaders.

The White Sox were shoved down into third place yesterday as the Detroit Tigers gathered in four runs in the first inning for a 6 to 4 victory, but they still are among the first ranking teams. With four regulars batting in the 300 class and a flock of pitchers working in good form, the White Sox have earned the present rating of 660, gained from six victories and four defeats.

Bill Cissell, current co-leader of the American League batters, has been the spark plug of the team this season after a few years of rather disappointing performances. He connected with Elton Hogsett, Detroit's big Indian hurler, for three of Chicago's 13 hits yesterday, but the rest of the Sox were not able to keep pace with him.

Washington, still the leader of the American League, was another high ranking club to meet defeat yesterday. The Senators, after eight successive victories, bowed to the pitching of George Pipgras of the New York Yankees and were shut out, 9 to 0. Pipgras, who has pitched in two of the three Yankee victories, gave but five hits.

Clint Brown of Cleveland took the leading role as the Indians beat the St. Louis Browns for the third time in succession, 6 to 3. The rookie hurler from New Orleans gave St. Louis six hits for his third victory of the season. He now leads the American League pitchers.

Milton Gaston of the Boston Red Sox, turned in the fourth fine pitching performance in the American League yesterday to beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 3. Simmons and Foxx divided five of the Athletics' blows.

The National League likewise went in for good pitching yesterday with Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn at its leading exponent. Dazzy held all of the New York Giants except Pat Crawford well under control while the Robins hammered out a 9 to 4 victory.

Red Lucas of Cincinnati and Sylvester Johnson of St. Louis put on a fine duel with the Reds gaining a 4 to 3 triumph on the strength of Joe Sipp's triple in the ninth inning. Neither pitcher gave a free trip to first base.

The Chicago Cubs prevented Pittsburgh from going into first place by nipping their former teammate, Percy Jones, for five runs, one at a time, while Pat Malone held the Pirates to two counters.

Boston's Braves jumped past the Phillies and St. Louis into the first division by hitting hard behind Ed Brandt to gain a 9 to 3 victory over Philadelphia.

Rochester, Minn., May 1.—(UP)—The condition of Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight king who underwent a minor operation at the Mayo Clinic yesterday, was pronounced satisfactory by physicians today. The doctors said that the might allow Dempsey to sit up today.

Dempsey's physicians predicted that he would be out of the hospital in two weeks and in condition to start training, should he desire.

Hamilton, N. Y., May 1.—(UP)—Fifty drivers representing 26 colleges, will compete in the first intercollegiate outboard motor regatta at Skaneateles, N. Y., May 16-17.

Schools represented in the entry list are Columbia, New York University, Harvard, Colgate, Cornell, Syracuse, Toledo, Rutgers, Union, Hamilton, Dartmouth, Cortland Normal, Brown, Pennsylvania, Penn State, Yale, Hobart, Georgetown, St. Lawrence, St. John's, Michigan State, Michigan University, Princeton, Northwestern, General Motors Tech., and Illinois.

Twenty-one trophies, valued at $4,000, will be awarded.

Columbus, O., May 1.—(UP)—The east's claim to track and field supremacy will be challenged by the west tomorrow and Saturday when 2,500 athletes from approximately 200 institutions throughout the country gather here for the seventh running of the Ohio relays.

The races at the Ohio state stadium mark the last large relay meet of the year and will find champions of Penn. Drake, Kansas and Texas carnivals vying for honors. A fast track is promised and officials predict many records will be swept off the boards.

The open 100-yard dash has been accorded the most prominent place on the program with George Simpson, Ohio State, competing with Eddie Tolen, Michigan; Claude Bracy, Rice Institute; Dee Hutson, Denison, and other star sprinters.

Sunningdale, Eng., May 1.—(UP)—Honors were even after the foursome play was complete in the first international women's golf tournament involving leading players of Great Britain and the United States here today.

The Americans lost the first foursome when Miss Glenna Collett, No. 1 U. S. woman player, who is captain of the invaders, and her partner, Miss Marion Bennett of New Britain, Conn., were defeated by the British team of Miss Molly Gourlay, captain, and Miss Enid Wilson, 3 and 4.

Each side won two matches and the fifth was halved.

The teams will engage in singles play this afternoon.

St. Louis, May 1.—(UP)—Joe Sewell, the Cleveland Indians slugging third baseman, through suffering from a high fever, is donning his uniform every day and playing long enough to have his name appear in the box score and continue his consecutive game record.

Yesterday's appearance against the Browns made 1102 consecutive games for Sewell. He came to bat in the first inning and slammed out a triple, and then was replaced by Burnett.

The list of Cleveland convalescents was increased yesterday when Hodapp was hit on the head by one of Dick Coffman's fast balls. Hodapp was carried from the field but after treatment in the clubhouse was able to leave with the Indians for Boston.

Both Sewell and Hodapp will be able to start with the Indians when they play the Red Sox tomorrow.

New York, May 1.—(UP)—Bobby Jones will try a new psychology to overcome the 18-hole match "jinx" which has followed him throughout his career. Grantland Rice, nationally known sports columnist, said in a radio talk over the NBC chain last night.

Jones is convinced his defeats over the short route have been caused by "pressing," induced by the realization that the 18-hole matches do not provide an opportunity for superior ability to overcome a "hot" round by a less capable player, said Rice. In the future the Atlantan plans to "take it easy" during the first few holes of short matches by playing for par and ignoring his opponent's score until he gets into the swing of his game.

"Bobby is hitting the ball better than at any time in his career," Rice said, "and appears destined for his greatest season."

Chicago, May 1.—(AP)—Michigan today was one of the four undefeated teams in the western conference baseball championship chase, but through no fault of Lefty Knowles, Chicago's sophomore left-hander.

Knowles yesterday held the 1923 and 1929 champions to four hits, but five errors by his mate assisted the Wolverines to a 4 to 3 victory.

Illinois virtually wrecked Purdue's season, scoring a 12 to 1 victory to hand the Boilermakers their fourth straight setback.

Four games are on Saturday's schedule, with Minnesota-Wisconsin contest at Madison topping the list. Each has two victories and no defeats and the mathematical leadership will be at stake. Michigan will entertain Northwestern. Ohio State will go to Illinois and Indiana will invade Chicago.

TWENTY-FIVE OF CAPONE'S AIDES NAMED IN BILLS

Chicago Officers Are Rounding Up Gang Leader's Bunch

Chicago, May 1.—(UP)—Federal officers moved rapidly today to complete their roundup of the 25 reputed members of one of "Scarface Al" Capone's alcohol syndicate subsidiaries who were indicted yesterday on charges of engaging in a $10,000,000 liquor conspiracy.

Warrants for the arrest of the defendants, all Sicilians, were based on indictments that contained 200 counts and set forth 17 alleged overt acts in furtherance of the conspiracy.

The manufacture and distribution of more than 400,000 gallons of liquor since January 1, 1926, was charged in the true bills which named as the principal defendants Charles Arango, Joseph Almazan and Frank Barone.

Argento was asserted by government prosecutors to be one of Capone's lieutenants. Other connections of the defendants with the Capone syndicate was indicated by deposits made in banks with which Capone does business.

The operations of the indicted Sicilians were discovered last fall when government agents captured a truckload of corn liquor at the rear of a supposed real estate office.

Instead of being a place of legitimate business, the office was discovered to be headquarters for the gang, according to the officers, who said they found an elaborately furnished meeting place provided with trap doors and other means of quick escape in event of raids.

Subsequent checking on the activities of the defendants disclosed the operation of huge stills near Racine, Wis., and an extensive business in distributing corn sugar to distilleries in Illinois and Wisconsin.

Daily Health Talk

CHILD HEALTH DAY
By Cary T. Grayson, M. D.,
President, Gorgas Memorial Institute
Washington, D. C.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Today is Child Health Day. Of course every day should be a day to give our children the very best of loving and intelligent care. But it is valuable to set aside a special day to re-study

The Child's Bill of Right
As phrased by President Hoover

The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America:

That has not been born under proper conditions.

That does not live in hygienic surroundings.

That ever suffers from undernourishment.

That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection.

That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health.

That has not the complete birthright of a sound mind in a sound body.

That has not the encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being.

And having studied it, it is incumbent upon good parents and good citizens to strive toward this high ideal.

It is enormously important that we appreciate what it would mean if we should give to every child the benefit of such knowledge regarding health as is now available, for with health comes strength, vigor, ambition, achievement, and happiness.

The maintenance of good health is largely an individual matter. To a great extent it is within the control of the individual or his parents. Action will be based on their knowledge of hygiene and the advice of the family physician. Hence the increasing emphasis on personal health—preventive medicine—keeping the well person well—and the sound health insurance secured by an annual physical examination.

On the other hand many diseases can be effectively prevented only by the united effort of many persons. The organized effort to prevent or control such diseases constitutes public health. Public health has to do with communicable diseases, many diseases of nutrition, pure water, safe milk, good food, the disposal of wastes, etc.

Money spent for health work for children goes much further than that spent for adults. Not only are defects or disease conditions more easily remedied and good health habits more readily formed in childhood, but the good that is done is likely to last for 50 or 60 years instead of only about half that length of time—and the beneficial effects of the radiation of that good to others during that additional 25 or 30 years is beyond calculation.

May Day is the time for parents, teachers, public health officials, doctors, groups interested in the prevention of disease and the promotion of health—in short, for all of us, to renew and strengthen our dedication to the ideals of Child Health.

State Treasury Is
$122,500 Better Off

Springfield, Ill., May 1.—(UP)—Coffers of the State Treasury were further enriched today with the receipt by State Treasurer Omer N. Custer of a check for $122,500 from the Fairmount Jockey Club, its license fee for a 49 days racing meet at East St. Louis from May 10 to July 5.

The check was filed with S. E. Pierson, Director of the State Department of Agriculture, yesterday who turned it over to Treasurer Custer. It is the largest single deposit in the fund from which the legislature appropriates State Fair premium funds and reimburses in part the premium payments of the county fair and 4-H Club exhibits.

The Illinois racing law allows each licensed jockey club to conduct a maximum of 51 days of racing during each summer season.

Licensed for all but two of the total days allotted them for 1930, it is apparent that the Fairmount Jockey Club does not intend to conduct a fall meeting this season.

Racing at the tracks adjacent to Chicago is scheduled to run until the season ends, Oct. 31.

POLICE HEAD IN PHILADELPHIA IS HELD AFTER RIOT

Disorder On Campus Of University Resulted In Arrest

Philadelphia, May 1.—(AP)—Director of Public Safety Lemuel B. Schofield was arrested early today as the result of a controversy growing out of a battle on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania between police and students during which upwards of 300 students were arrested. They were released later.

Schofield also was released in his own recognition for a hearing.

A short time before the disorders on the university campus began, the students had attended the annual "Ivy Week" celebration of the burning in effigy the "two most unpopular professors" at the institution.

There were several versions as to the start of the melee. Some students said the affair began after a riot call when he saw a crowd collecting.

Thomas C. Ferguson, a junior, said a motorcycle policeman, who rode his motorcycle into a crowd of students, was to blame. "Several of the boys were thrown to the ground when hit by the sidecar," Ferguson said.

"Then some of the boys began throwing things at the police. A cop sent in the riot call and the fun began."

Among the prisoners were scores of youths who had been taken from their quarters clad only in pajamas.

One of the first arrested was Rev. Dr. John R. Hart, unofficial chaplain of the university, who went to the scene to ask the students to return to their homes.

Members of several fraternities refused to admit police and the door to the houses were forced by axes. In some cases the locks were shot off.

Continued Rate Of Taxation: Suicidal

Washington, May 1.—(UP)—American taxation has developed at a rate which will be "suicidal" if continued 15 years at the present speed, Felix M. McWhirter of the Peoples State Bank, Indianapolis, told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce today.

Taxes virtually have reached the confiscatory point, he said, pointing out that since 1913 both national wealth and income have doubled while public expenditure has increased four times. All government taxes, he said, amount annually to $13,000,000,000 and are increasing at the rate of $500,000,000 a year.

"Can our taxes continue to go upward, year in and year out?" he asked. "If we have not passed the safety point, where is it? Could we devote 20 per cent of our income to taxes?"

No nation ever has survived. Another 15 years like the last 15 and we shall have reached that point, which we now agree would be suicidal."

Omaha Alky Baron
Shot In Disorder

Omaha, Nebr., May 1.—(AP)—Gene Livingston, self-styled alcohol "baron" and leader of the gamblers, was fatally wounded and Bob Glasgow, head of the local Bill Posters' Union, was shot in the hip and leg while attending an early morning revely in the apartment of Mrs. Margaret Mack.

Livingston died a half hour later in a hospital. Five inmates of the apartment were held for questioning.

According to Mrs. Mack, Livingston came to the place in an intoxicated condition, and asked to remain for the night. She consented, she told police. As they walked into the kitchen, a volley of shots crashed through a window.

Livingston fell to the floor with three bullets in the abdomen. Mrs. Mack told police Glasgow was wounded when he returned the fire of the assassins.

In addition to Mrs. Mack and Glasgow, those placed under arrest, were James Russell, John B. Hegg, and John Kully.

THINK BRITAIN WILL ACT SOON IN INDIA CRISIS

Lack Of News Indicating Establishment Of Censorship

London, May 1.—(AP)—British newspapers today said they understood that the Indian Administration working with the approval of the home government, would take immediate strong action to put down the civil disobedience campaign of Mahatma Gandhi and the All-India National Congress.

It was believed, the papers said, that Gandhi would be arrested. In some quarters it was recalled, however, that the Mahatma's arrest often has been reported as imminent, but has never materialized. There is a widely-held view that the government's refusal to grant the Satyagraha leader the martyrdom of arrest has strengthened its position.

Bombay dispatches said that Gandhi had another plan to harass the government which will be revealed on the banks of the river Tapi at Surat. The nature of the plan was a mystery, but a special messenger was understood to have taken Gandhi's instructions for carrying it out.

Lack of important news from India has led to general suspicion that news is being withheld by the censor rather than that the situation is improving.

Tariff Bill Back
In House For Vote

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—The Smoot-Hawley tariff bill was back before the House today for approval of the work of the conference committee and separate votes on highly controversial provisions left unsettled by the conferees.

Under a plan evolved by Republican leaders, the members were called together an hour earlier than the usual meeting time to pass upon the many schedules not in dispute and to vote before adjournment of the first of the contested items, the duty on cement.

Gathering at 11 o'clock each day, the administration leaders hope to complete work on the bill by Saturday night, including debate and votes on cement, lumber, shingles, sugar and silver, the export duties plan added to the bill by the Senate and the Senate's modified, flexible provisions.

LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLE ROUTED BY NEW KAVATONE

Sensational Medicine Scores Another Triumph After Others Had Failed.

One of the greatest joys of the Kavatone Man is to meet people who have "tried everything" for their various ailments and become discouraged of ever getting relief. Because in almost every case of this kind the Kavatone Man ultimately has the extreme pleasure and satisfaction of seeing these people put back on the road to health through the power of Kavatone. There are almost endless cases of rheumatism, neuritis, constipation, stomach liver, and kidney trouble and similar ailments where Kavatone has brought relief after many other medicines had failed.

Kavatone, because of the manner in which it is made and the ingredients it contains, tends to free the system from toxic poisons and revive and rejuvenate the functioning organs of the body. It contains no alcohol, opiates, narcotics or harmful drugs of any nature and of its 36 valuable ingredients, 24 are purely vegetable.

People gladly try the Kavatone Man of their experiences with this masterful medicine because they know it helps other sufferers. For instance just the other day a caller on the Kavatone Man was Elmer Kreider, of R. R. No. 2, Sterling, Ill. In speaking of his experience, Mr. Kreider said: "Practically all of my life I have been bothered with kidney and liver disorders. I had a dull aching pain across the small of my back all the time, and it seemed that no matter what I took for relief nothing ever helped me. I would feel very tired and worn out after doing only a small part of a farmer's daily routine, but upon retiring nights I would not rest properly. My liver would bother me to such an extent that I would have sick headaches very often—these would last for two or three days at a time. Dizzy spells, too, had bothered me for quite a while and my complexion became sallow and yellow. These conditions gradually ran down my whole system and I felt I could not work at all any more.

"A neighbor of mine told me what Kavatone had done for their family, and advised me to give it a trial. I was under the impression that it would only do about as much as everything else I had taken, but to my surprise after just taking the first bottle I felt better in every way. Now I no longer experience those dreadful backaches, I sleep better, eat better, and feel so much better in every way I hardly know it's me. Kavatone has done so much for me that other members of my family are taking it. I am more than glad to endorse this wonderful medicine."

The Kavatone Man is located at the FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, 123 West First St., where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this great medicine. Everyone is cordially invited to call at the store, meet and get acquainted with the Kavatone Man and see and study the famous Kavatone figure which is used in the demonstration of this masterful medicine.—Adv.

ERRORGRAMS

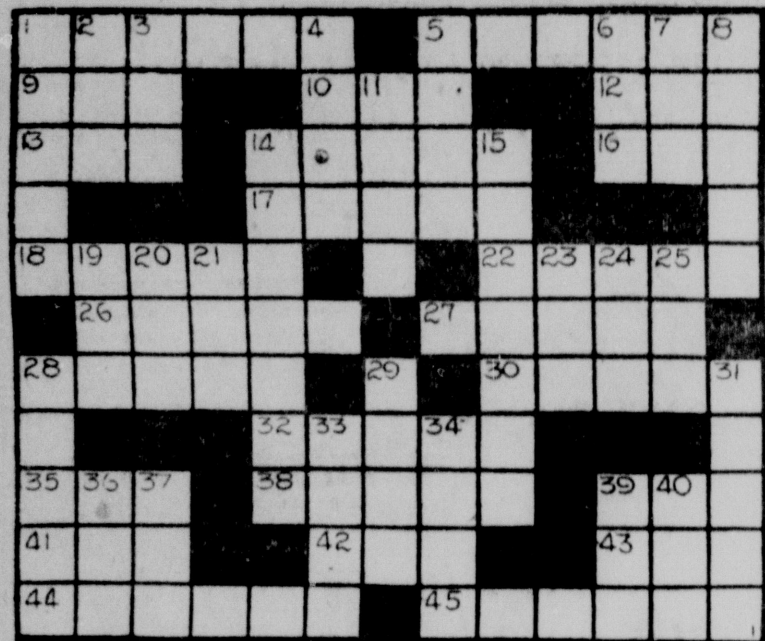

(Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you hit.

WEDNESDAY'S CORRECTIONS

STOMACH MISERY
IS CONQUERED
BY NEW REMEDY

"Konjola Ended Five Year Period of Suffering in Record Time," Says Happy Lady.

MRS. C. L. GRUSSEMEYER.

"I was troubled with constipation and kidney trouble for the last five years," said Mrs. C. L. Grussemyer, 1306 Madison street, Quincy, Ill. "I had a poor appetite, and indigestion gave me no end of concern. Gas bloating was frequent. It was not long before neuritis and a general cramped feeling set in. My kidneys made it necessary for me to rise often during the night, and nothing I took gave me anything but temporary relief."

"I felt there just had to be something that would go to the root of the trouble and give me permanent relief—and Konjola proved to be that very thing. I noticed a difference after using the first bottle, and after the third, my kidneys no longer troubled me and I was free from gas bloating. My indigestion disappeared like magic, and my appetite increased. Today I am in the best of health, and to think for five years I suffered, just because I didn't try Konjola in the first place."

Konjola is not a "cure-all"—there is no such thing, but when taken from six to eight weeks will produce amazing results. The countless thousands of endorsements of Konjola have proven that it makes good even in the most stubborn cases.

Konjola is sold and recommended by all the better drug stores in Dixon and throughout this section.—Adv.

Keeps Glider In Air
Over Fifteen Hours

San Diego, Cal., April 30—(A.P.)—Jack Barstow, sail plane pilot, landed at Point Loma at 3:56 o'clock this morning, ending a flight of 15 hours and 12 minutes duration that unofficially established a new world's record for motorless sustained flight.

Barstow took off at 12:44 P. M. yesterday and took advantage of a favorable breeze to circle San Diego and Point Loma. He also exceeded the American glider mark of 9 hours 5 minutes and 32 2-5 seconds established several months ago by Hawley Bowles.

The official glider record is 14 hours and 45 minutes, and was established in Germany. As his flight was unofficial and he carried no barograph, Barstow cannot claim a new official mark.

Hundreds of housekeepers use our colored paper for the pantry shelves and bureau drawers. It is in rolls, 10c to 50c. B. F. Shaw Printing Co.
